BASKET BALL.

Thirty-five candidates for the basketball team reported last Thursday evening in the gym for the first practice this season. The prospects for a fast quintet this winter are good. Black, '09, captain and centre of the team last year, Wadsworth, '10, forward and recently elected captain, N.E. Scales, '11, forward and Marshall, '11, guard, all members of the team last winter are out. To this group of veterans must be added Stuart, who played a star game at guard two years ago but who was absent from college last year. There are several good men from the freshmen class who will make some of these old men work for their positions.

In Frank G. Wadsworth, who was recently elected captain in place of J. G. Scales, who has left college the team will have an able leader. Wadsworth is a strong and speedy player and knows the game. He made good here during his freshmen year and has played left forward ever since.

The team will be managed this year by H. L. Farwell, '09, who has partly completed his schedule. As yet he has engaged no coach, though several are under consideration. J. T. Phelan who has acted in that capacity for two years will not return this season. The coach will probably be with the squad shortly after Christmas. Until then practice will be held Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. It is expected to get the men into shape before the recess and to gain an idea of the abilities of the new candidates.

Among the freshmen of whom something is known are: Clark of Guilford High; Parker, of Bucksport Seminary; Holmes of Belfast High; Joyce of Bar Harbor High; and Thompson of Morse High school, Bath. Dodge, '10, who played forward on the Colby team two years ago, is out as are also Russell, '10, sub-guard and Merrill, '11, and Mason, '11, both of whom played on their class team.

Some of the other candidates are Harmon '10, Vaughn, '12, Murphy, '11, Taylor, Mills, Lancaster, King, Eaton, Wilson, Loring, Smith, Cleaves, Washburn, Middlemas, Sullivan, Carleton, Tartre, of 1912 and Strout and Atwood, '11.

1911-1912 FOOTBALL GAME.

In the annual class football game between the sophomores and freshmen, 1912 came out a close winner by a score of 5-0. It was one of the most exciting and interesting games on Alumni Field this fall and was witnessed by a large number of undergraduates. The sophomores with their array of varsity material were strong favorites, but the first year men went into the game to win and they did.

The playing on both sides was about even, the heavier line of the sophomores being balanced by the fierceness of the freshman attack. The work of the 1912 backfield was almost phenomenal, considering that they had practiced together but one week, the three working like one. Oliver was strong in breaking up interference, while Captain Parker and Holmes fought for ground till they were hardly able to stand.

The sophomores showed up some good men also, Bearce, McHale and Hosmer, being the stars. They played hard, but not together, which gave the freshmen an advantage.

Both teams rushed the ball for long distances, the freshmen scoring their touchdown after carrying the ball without stopping from their own 20-yard line. At one period of the game, the second year men forced the ball from the center of the field to the goal line, but on the play, which carried it over, they fumbled and the pigskin was recovered by the freshmen behind their own goal posts. Neither side had another chance to score during the game. The line-up and summary is as follows:

MEETING OF THE LITERATI AND DEUTSCHER VEREIN.

On Wednesday evening at the regular meeting of the Literati the Deutscher Verein furnished the entertainment. The programme of the evening consisted of a very interesting illustrated lecture on Rotenburg and its Festival, by Dr. Fellows.

The speaker said that Rotenburg was one of those few small towns of Bavaria which exists to-day just as it was three hundred years ago at the time of the Thirty Years War. Not a thing has been changed; as then it has a population of six thousand and not a building has been erected. The people are very proud of having a town which is now attracting attention and are very careful to preserve everything as it has been for centuries and to maintain all of the old customs. In order that the people should always take an interest in the preservation of their quaint town the "Master Drnk Festival" was established in 1881. This is held annually, the Monday following Whitsunday. The whole town is the stage and the people are the actors—everyone living in spirit his character of three hundred years before.

The day, when the town was taken by Tilly, the imperial Catholic general, is portrayed with exactness; the old armor of both the besiegers and the besieged is used by the people, some of whom take the part of invaders. The name of the festival comes from the fact that the town was saved from destruction by a feat performed by an ex-burgomaster, who succeeded in draining at a single draught at six quart pitcher of wine. This he did, because Tilly promised to save the town from destruction, if any man would do the feat.

Dr. Fellows who saw this festival several years ago said that one could hardly realize he was not living in medieval times. The stereopticon views shown were taken by Dr. Fellows himself. They not only illustrated Rotenburg and the festival but also many other points of German historical interest.

LAW SCHOOL NOTES.

At the recent class election Mr. E. A. Anderson of Portland was elected president of the Senior class, Mr. Verne Riggs of Rumford Falls, Vice-President and Mr. Harold Brackett of Berwick, Secretary and treasurer, B. E. Spencer of Wareham, Mass., was elected president of the first year class, Carl Getchell of Monmouth, vice-president, F. B. Littlefield of New York, secretary, and A. B. Osborn of Hudson, Mass., treasurer.

Mr. Russell Chesley of Boston was a recent visitor at the Law School having come to Maine to visit his brother Frank Chesley of the first year class.

Phi Delta Phi has taken up new quarters in the granite block, corner of Exchange and State streets.

The Law School is very fortunate this year to have among its number one of the most prominent men of Western Maine, Mr. A. V. Currier of Hallowell. Mr. Currier is at the head of a large architect house in Hallowell. Realizing the advantages of a legal training Mr. Currier entered the first year class about the middle of this term.

The students of the law school were grieved to hear of the death of the father of Mr. James Blenn Perkins. Mr. Perkins knew nothing of the seriousness of his father's sickness until he arrived at Boothbay Harbor. His father died a few hours later.

DELTA TAU DELTA RECEPTION AND BALL

On Friday evening Nov. 20, the newly installed Gamma Nu Chapter of Delta Tau Delta fraternity held its opening reception and ball. The reception lasted from eight o'clock until nine and the dance, which followed was continued until one o'clock when a special car left for Bangor.

In the receiving line were Hon. and Mrs. Henry Lord, Mrs. George E. Fellows, Mrs. W. H. Nauman, and Mr. H. T. Pettigrew, '09.

There were present in addition to the regular members representatives from all the fraternities on the campus as well as from the Law school, some of the members of the Faculty and other friends.

Music was furnished by the Columbia Orchestra from Bath and proved very excellent. The new floor was in fine condition and the large dancing space was much appreciated.

The Senior Skulls have suggested to the sophomore class, that they form an honorary society, having for one of its objects the governing of hazing at the University.

EDITORIALS.

THE work of the Red Cross Society during the time of war is well known to everyone. But the work of this society does not end nor does it begin at this point. The Red Cross is a great national organization which has been formed to render aid in war, pestilence or famine. This society is backed and supported by the best known men in the country. Its president, Hon. William H. Taft, the President-Elect of United States, is a man whose own personality would show the character and tone of this society were not its own work equally capable doing this.

At present the Red Cross is making a grand and humane fight against the Great White Plague, Tuberculosis. Tuberculosis hospitals are being planned, in every State to fight this disease and to accomplish this great work the Red Cross has followed the idea of the Denmark government, and has issued a Christmas Stamp. This stamp will be on sale at the College store. The proceeds from it in each State will be given to fight tuberculosis in that State. This stamp will not carry any kind of mail but any kind of mail will carry it. It costs but a single penny, but the idea which it carries, of helping to "stamp out this White Plague," a plague which claims one death out of every seven, is well worthy of the interest and support of every true man or woman.

THE football season has ended, not in the way we had expected or hoped for, and as far as football is concerned we can only comfort ourselves by remembering that there is another season coming. But now comes the next branch of Athletics, Basketball! This, although it is not a very direct way of redeeming ourselves in the eyes of the other colleges of the state, helps wonderfully as far as advertising is concerned. In Maine, basketball is practically the only sport which preparatory schools find self-supporting. For this reason they enter into it with more vim and vigor than any other game and inevitably they look up to the higher school or college which has a good basketball team. Thus a college having a good team draws these players and many other athletes of ability.

We must not make a farce of this season. We must turn out a team which will be a credit to this institution, and to do this the Basketball management will need the hearty cooperation of every student. Every man who has or thinks he has any ability in this direction owes it to himself and to this institution to turn out for the team. Men are wanted for the 'Varsity, men are wanted for the second, third and fourth teams. The players on the sub-teams are every bit as important in developing a winning team as are the players on the 'Varsity. In compensation for their work there are always trips for the second and third teams.

At the first call for candidates, many good men responded, men who should distinguish themselves in Basketball before they graduate from this University. Several of them are men who have distinguished themselves by their preparatory school playing, but there must be many more, capable of doing equally good work, who for various reasons have not turned out. It is to these men that an appeal is made. It is your ability that is wanted for the support of our team and you can be assured of a fair chance. The team will be made up of those men who show the most ability. College or preparatory schools reputations will count for nothing in the selection of the team.

The Basketball management recognizes the fact that every student in college is not physically fitted to play on the teams, but one thing is assured, Basketball has a claim on every student. Everyone knows that side-line cheering helps remarkably on the football field and this principle holds equally well in Basketball. The players need the support and commendation of the fellows. They need to know that the students are behind them. Therefore if you are unable to play come out and help in the only way you can!

The department of chemistry has lately received a number of samples of artificial and natural perfumes from Alloys von Isakovics, Monticello, N. Y., which are greatly appreciated by the department.

Horace Melvyn Estabrooke began his work as a Professor in this institution on August 4th, 1891; on October 28th, 1908, he did his last work in class room; on October 30th he died.

Thus for seventeen years he has given our University his best endeavors, and has left upon it the impress of a personality which merits high commendation. He was a man of fine literary appreciation, and to a high degree he possessed the ability of awakening in his students a response to his own literary ideals. He was a man of faith in God and in his fellows; he possessed the hope and courage of the optimist; and that charity that thinketh no evil was to him almost instinctive.

While submitting to the divine order of events which has so sorely bereaved us, we, his associates in the Faculty of the University of Maine, would honor his memory and express our pleasure that we have been permitted for so long a time to number Professor Estabrooke among our friends. We would extend to his family the fullest sympathy we can bestow by joining with them in their sorrow, and we would spread upon the records of the Faculty this tribute to his memory.

Committee, { GEO. D. CHASE
J. S. STEVENS
J. H. HUDDILSTON

Deep sorrow was brought to our midst by the removal from our ranks of our beloved brother, James Stewart Aldridge who though with us but a short time had by his ever present smile and kindly way won the admiration of all who knew him. His character was unblemished and that with his personality and magnetism bespoke of nothing but success for his future.

He died bravely, his last words being spoken to aid and encourage a friend.

We, his brothers in Beta Theta Pi have suffered a deep loss, the loss of a friend and brother, and would extend to his heart broken family our fullest sympathy by joining with them in their sorrow.

As a tribute to his memory we would place this upon the records of our chapter, bowing our heads in our sorrow to the will of the Almighty.

Friday evening, December 4th the annual Sophomore Prize Speaking Contest was held in the chapel. Owing to the absence of lights during the early part of the evening, the contest was delayed for a short time and the attendance was very naturally reduced as a result. The audience, though small, was none the less appreciative of the good work of the speakers all of whom were soundly applauded; all showed the thorough training which they had received.

The platform was decorated for the occasion with palms and banners. The speakers were introduced by President Fellows. The college orchestra furnished music, which was a very enjoyable part of the program.

The Awarding Committee consisting of Rev. Henry L. Griffin, Rev. Elmer F. Pember and Dr. David N. Beach retired at the close of the speaking and the result was later announced in the Gymnasium by Dr. Fellows.

The prize of $15 was awarded to Harold Grinnell Wood, Hallowell. His selection was "Settling the Mortgage," from David Harum, and his impersonation of "David" was indeed remarkable. Contrary to the usual custom, there was no "honorable mention" given as the committee announced that all of the speakers did so well that it was impossible to come to any decision.

The following is the program of the evening.

MUSIC

At the close of the contest the crowd retired to the gymnasium where a very pleasant dance was enjoyed. Music was furnished by the college orchestra.

A Yale alumnus, writing to his freshman son at Yale, gives him this advice:—"Finally, if you make any of the teams, never quit. That is all the secret of success. Never quit! If you can't win the scholarship, fight it out to the end of the examination. If you can't win your race, at least finish somewhere. If your boat can't win, at least keep pulling on your oars, even if your eyes glare and the taste of blood comes into your throat with every heave. If you cannot make your five yards in football, keep bucking the line never let up if you can't see or hear, keep plugging ahead. Never quit."

The point system has been established at M. I. T., whereby a strict limit is placed on the amount of undergraduate activities in which a single student may engage. This plan proposes to relieve the public-spirited student from the necessity of overloading his time with undue responsibilities, simply because no one else will undertake them; also it will rid the undergraduates of the undesirable office-grabber.

Students of the University of Missouri belonging to the I. O. O. F. lodge have organized a fraternity. It is the first organization of the kind in the country and the intention is to extend the movement to other universities.

The University of Vermont has abolished Intercollegiate Basketball and is contemplating the substitution of Hockey in its place. Already, plans are being made to build a skating rink.

ALUMNI NOTES

We have received from Mr. A. D. Blackington the following interesting information regarding his work.

"Before the University of Maine" was born—even while the Agricultural College was in swaddling clothes—I first crossed the Stillwater old covered bridge and footed my way to the White Hall. This can be verified by any of the members of the class of '77. A fine class we had, and what joy it would give me to entertain them right here in town to-day. To some of them it may be interesting to know that I am still in Scranton, Penn., among the miners and still active as President of the Engineering Construction Co., Vice-President Scranton Whetstone and Braside Company, Sec. and Treas. of Consumers Ice Co.

Mr. J. D. Custer is located in Tomahawk, Wis. He has been Mayor two terms, city Supt. of Schools four terms, Surgeon for the C. M. and St. Ry. and M. V. & W Ry. Physician and Surgeon to the Sacred Heart Hospital, and Medical Examiner for most of the large Insurance Companies. He is also a member of the Lincoln Co. Medical Society, Wisconsin State Medical Society, American Medical Association and the American Association of Railway Surgeons.

E. H. Farrington has returned to his work as head of the Dairy Department of the University of Wis. after spending a year in Europe. He studied at the University of Leipzig for one semester and at the Politechnicum at Zurich, Switzerland during the spring. Readers of Hoard's Dairyman have been given the benefit of his observation in Europe through many interesting articles.

'89.

J. S. Ferguson, was recently appointed Assistant Professor of History in Cornell University Medical College, New York city.

'96.

Since graduating from the University Mr. P. F. Walker has taken his M. M. E. from Cornell.

He is a member of American Society of Mechanical Engineers, of Society for Promotion of Engineering Education and of the Kansas Academy of Science. At present he is Professor of Mechanical Engineering and Director of Fowler Shops, University of Kansas. He is also in charge of the New University Electric Lighting and Power Plant and is a member of the staff of the Kansas Engineering Experiment Station. Mr. Walker has from time to time published numerous articles in the leading Engineering Magazines in this country and in France. Portions of these articles will be printed in next weeks CAMPUS.

Allen Rogers P. H. D., Professor at Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, New York, has recently published a Laboratory guide of Industrial Chemistry. This is only one of a number of books recently written by Prof. Rogers concerning the work in his Department.

'00.

C. D. Holley has recently resigned the position of Prof. of Industrial Chemistry at N. Dakota Agricultural College, to accept the position of Chief Chemist of the Acme White Lead and Color Works, Detroit, Mich. This company has the largest a paint and varnish factory in the world and employs three four chemists including Mr. Holley. His time is largely devoted to research work and to superintending the productions of the white lead, that is, white lead, lead vibrato, lead acetate and lead arsenate. The first book written by Mr. Holley, "The Analysis of Mixed Paints, Colors and Varnishes (Wiley and Sons) appeared last February. His second "Lead and Zinc Pigments," is still at the press. Mr. Holley's address is No. 541 2nd Ave., Detroit, Mich.

Columbia University has striven throughout the fall to wipe out the crew deficit. From individual contributions and from the gate receipts of the interclass football games, a good part of this shortage has been made up. To clear up the balance, the student body has petitioned that one intercollegiate football game be arranged.
